LOCATION

Ocean Front in Miami Beach at 29th Street and Collins Avenue

Located on Collins Avenue in Miami Beach, The Residences at The Miami Beach EDITION are situated between the ocean and the bay with breathtaking views of each. A magnet for art enthusiasts, the location plays host to the annual Art Basel Miami Beach with its myriad of events in and around the art fair. Today Miami Beach is a global hub for culture, commerce and leisure.

BUILDING

The historic Seville Hotel was designed and built in 1955 on the site of the old Pancoast Hotel. The project was led by Melvin Grossman of the Crosby Corporation. For Grossman, the Seville design was situated between the DiLido Resort Hotel (1953) and the Barcelona (1957), confirming him as an important hotel architect in the postwar development of Miami Beach. The Seville is a classic tower-on-pedestal type building which was considered a salient feature of the property, establishing itself prominently within the urban landscape of Miami.

Created from a landmarked 1950s building in combination with a newly constructed 18-story tower, the residences are designed by world-renowned architect John Pawson. Pawson's name has become a byword for integrity and serenity. The harmonious proportions with which he conceives his interiors, together with the exceptionally high-quality materials and finishes used in their execution, induce an immediate sense of well-being in those who experience them.

From one-bedroom residences to duplexes, triplexes and penthouses with private pools and outdoor kitchens, The Residences at The Miami Beach EDITION are designed to meet the needs of sophisticated, modern people who understand the art of living and share a desire to enjoy the freedom of a well-run, well-designed, and uncluttered life.
